“Clayton and his team were responsive, affordable, easy to do business with, and eager to please. Clayton’s strong points include listening to what you would like to have done, offering a thorough appraisal of the job, presenting options to consider for re-planting the site, and being upfront about potential risks, not only to his equipment, but also to our property. They also left our job site much better than they found it. We look forward to working with Clayton again.”
